

Rafael Linhares

Unrealistic Approach to Something Very Realistic Under a moon that never ceases to impress the lovers that stubbornly hold each other past dark

Let's find a realistic approach
To something very

Unrealistic
As I float away
In the Of a lost sea middle

Let's try to find a solution

To a problem
Much Greater than You
Or

Me

I want to take your

Hand
My dear

And hold it tightly as I close my eyes

But unfortunately

The world doesn't quite allow that
It only happens when I dream or rest my eyes

I wish I could

pick
myself
A p a r t

My dear

And find out

Everything
I want to know

But finding truth

Is hard

my dear,
That truth
Is one
I know

Let's let

the yellow trumpets sing their

Yellow tune

Listen to the frogs

CRoaK

Under a Cratered moon

And sway for what seems forever

(in each other's arms)

Forget about the Past

my dear

It's this moment

that unites us

Remember all those

Dreams we

Have

Let

Naivety be our guide

Let us explore shall we, my dear

Let us dive for sunken treasure

Let us seek that which is forever lost
Futility will bring us together

Let us find our love

again

My dear

Let us discover this long lost treasure

Because I have nothing to lose but you

my dear

I cannot stand

Being

alone

In this

Awful

Weather

So come with me, will you, may I seek refuge in your pure soul

So come with me, will you, my warmth in cold winter's snow
So come with me, will you, let us trek until our paths unite

Sway once more, shall we my dear
Sway once more in each others arms

From ashes, I hope, my love

Will our shimmering spark

Find

Life

The lovers continued stubbornly holding onto each other despite the increasing cold and darkness

The moon gave them enough light to enjoy each others appearance before and after they kissed one another

The following day introduced further turmoil in both of their lives but that night was one of many that made such turmoil seem like a small bump in the road

Stubborn yet patient are the lovers

Dedicated they are, they give me hope

Fin